

Chapter 20 (7 - 12)

In the city of Troas Paul and his group joined the local believers for the Breaking of Bread one Saturday night.

Paul's sermon went on till the middle of the night.

As Paul went on and on, a young man who was sitting on the window-sill, went to sleep and fell to the ground three floors below.

He was dead when they picked him up.

Paul went down to the boy and prayed over him.

The boy came back to life. Paul kept on talking till dawn. That same day he left Troas.

Jesus, is it ok if I pray that someone who has died will come back to life?

Chapter 20 (17 - 21)

Paul's journey took him to Meletus where he met the elders of the church from Ephesus. He said to them "You know what my way of life has been from the first day I arrived among you.

I have served the Lord in all humility, facing all the sorrows and trials that came to me through the plots of the Jews.

I have not hesitated to do anything that would be helpful to you. I have preached to you and instructed you, both in public and in your homes, urging everyone to believe in our Lord Jesus".

Jesus, help me be a bit more like Saint Paul
