

Chapter 2

One Israelite mother hid her baby boy for three months.

When she could no longer hide him, she put him in a basket and placed the basket among reeds near a river bank.

The basket was found by Pharaoh's daughter when she went to bathe in the river.

She felt sorry for the baby and decided to keep it.

The baby's sister saw all this happen and asked Pharaoh's daughter if she'd like a nurse for the baby.

Pharaoh's daughter agreed, and so the baby's mother was paid by Pharaoh's daughter to be the baby's nurse.

When the child was weaned, he was taken to Pharaoh's daughter who treated him like her own son.

She named the baby Moses.

When Moses became a man, he visited the Israelites and saw their hard life.

He saw an Egyptian hit one of the Israelites so he killed the Egyptian and hid his body in the sand.

But people found out; and so did Pharaoh who decided to kill Moses.

Moses then fled to the land of Midian.

The priest of Midian had 7 daughters.

One day when they drew water for their father's sheep they were driven away from the well by some shepherds.

Moses protected them from the shepherds and helped them get water from the well.

Their father, Jethro, was grateful to Moses and invited him for a meal.

Moses then stayed with Jethro who gave him his daughter Zipporah for a wife.
